

Labcyte Inc. Statement regarding Modern Slavery Act 2015

The Modern Slavery Act requires certain commercial organizations doing business in the United Kingdom to prepare a slavery and human trafficking statement for each financial year. As the global leader in Acoustic Liquid Handling, we at Labcyte are committed to upholding the highest standards in our interactions with customers, colleagues and the communities in which we live and work.

We have a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery in our organization and our supply chains. The prevention and reporting of modern slavery in any part of our organization or supply chain is the responsibility of all those working for or on behalf of Labcyte. Workers must not facilitate or engage in any activity that could lead to a breach of this policy.

Labcyte also endeavor to ensure that our suppliers recognize and adhere to our position with respect to compliance with all applicable laws and regulations, including those relating to the prohibition of slavery and human trafficking. Accordingly, we consider these rights issues when we assess and select potential suppliers. While Labcyte does not have a formal verification program, as part of our ongoing risk assessment and due diligence processes we will consider whether circumstances warrant us carrying out audits of suppliers for their compliance with our policies.
